Meet the Earvangelist

As a psychoaudiologist, I specialize in helping students and young professionals become exceptional communicators and leaders through the science of how the auditory system shapes the mind, behaviour and performance.

With over a decade of experience working with emerging leaders, I've seen firsthand how harnessing this often-overlooked gateway can revolutionise leadership potential.

The auditory system profoundly influences cognition, communication, and inner calm — key pillars of effective leadership. When trained and optimised, it can transform how you think, speak, and lead. In short...

LISTEN & LEAD

Great leaders don't just speak—they listen. You may have heard it said that “we have two ears and one mouth to listen twice as much as we speak.”

But how do we maximise the power of the auditory system to truly hear others, gain clarity, foster stronger relationships, and make better decisions?

Learn how to master the art of listening, and unlock your potential to lead with confidence, empathy, and purpose.

YOUR MOST UNDERVALUED ASSET

Contrary to popular belief, your ears do so much more for you than just hear. In fact, they hold the key to 3 areas of human behaviour: cognition, communication and inner calm.

Do you ever struggle to line up your thoughts in succinct, concise manner? To focus on one thing at a time?

Then communicating that idea with clarity? Or get nervous at the thought of doing so?

By training the auditory system, you can revolutionize how you lead...from the inside out.

BE HEARD

What young leaders know matters, but how they communicate what they know matters far more. How effective are they at conveying their groundbreaking ideas to a world that needs to hear them?

Whilst it's common to focus on vocal techniques, delivery and rhetoric alone, this is a major oversight. Your ears hold the key to you not only hearing, but being heard.

Discover the untapped power of your auditory system to be heard when you speak.

Let's talk.

I've never seen it covered as well as Priscilla did. Her unique angle is just eye opening. There's something special about what she talks about and the beauty of it is when she delivers it. James Perryman, Momentus CEO ””

Priscilla's got such a wonderful way with words. A treat to listen to. A real inspiration.
Casper Willcock, Toastmasters Area B6 Director ””

I was fascinated! I had no idea there was a secret to how we speak better.. I now know.
